Design at The Heart of Tarkett New Generation Flooring

Tarkett designers anticipate future lifestyles by studying trends in architecture, design as well as changes in society, consumer behaviour and technology use. It enables them to identify guiding trends in contemporary decoration.

Four trends have been identified by our designers for the coming years and translated into colours, patterns, materials, furnitures and accessories. Inspired by these trends, collections are then shaped with designs that help consumers create unique living experiences.

4 Questions for Tarkett Designers

Each year, Tarkett enriches its ranges with 12-15 additional collections: new designs, colours and materials. It's a real challenge for Tarkett's designers who must mix imagination and innovation into the trends of the day. The team tells us about their approach.

What's the role of a Tarkett designer?

We're always on the scent of what's new. We observe people, their behaviour, their tastes and lifestyles to better understand their habits and desires. From this we can then define 4 interior design trends to follow. For the next two years these are - "Natural Care", "Timeless Classic", "Smart Generation" and "Creative Lab".

What are the difficulties of your job?

People need to identify with our designs, so we can't be too elitist or conceptual in what we create. We have to make consumers want or even dare to choose our floors. Above all, the design needs to fit and the floor take centre stage. We have to continually refresh collections, without erasing those of the past. We're inspired by fashion, but not constant change.

Is design the main criteria for buying a floor?

Most people buy a floor because of its look or style. Clients think about design first, before looking at technical performance. But other criteria are also top of mind, namely ease of installation, upkeep and comfort.

How would you describe the benefits of Tarkett new collection?

For us, 3 key words: functional, sensorial and ecological. Functional, because a vinyl flooring meets all practical needs and is long lasting. Sensorial, because it brings well-being through comfort, colours and design. Ecological, because it contributes to improving indoor environment and air quality. And, as designers, we'd add "innovative" because with vinyl anything is possible!

Improved Indoor Environment and Air Quality

We aim to bring tangible environmental and health benefits to flooring users. To improve indoor environments and air quality, Tarkett has focused on two eco-innovations – replacing phthalate plasticizers in our vinyl flooring and reducing emissions. From January 2014, we will progressively introduce phthalate-free* plasticizers in all of our five European production sites.

Tarkett Vinyl: A New Technology

Phthalate-Free Technology*

Tarkett New Generation Vinyl is a phthalate-free* flooring. The phthalate-free plasticizers selected by Tarkett are approved for food contact containers and can be used for toys intended to be placed in the mouth by children. These new phthalate-free* products also have been designed to improve indoor environment and air quality.

Low VOC Emissions

Tarkett has also set the highest industry standards by eco-designing all its products to have low or extremely low VOC emissions, thus contributing to better indoor air quality. Our new flooring collection has a VOC emissions level that is ten times lower than the strictest European standards.

Clean and hygienic

Vinyl is a practical and hygienic flooring. We've extended the use of our PUR surface treatment to all our ranges making them highly resistant and very easy to maintain with simple vacuuming/mopping and minimal use of water and cleaning products.

For more details, visit our website: home.tarkett.com

Building a Sustainable Future

To build a sustainable future, we continue to re-think our products and manufacturing processes along 'Cradle to Cradle' principles for the indefinite reuse of materials. This ensures that everything we use can become part of something new again, without compromising quality and performance - for a positive contribution to people, the environment and economic development.

A Healthy Indoor Environment

As a market leader, we continue to improve the way we make our flooring, respecting the most stringent environmental and health concerns for safer and healthier indoor environments.

- In 2014, Tarkett is introducing phthalate-free plasticizers in the manufacturing of vinyl at its five European production sites. The phthalate-free plasticizers selected by Tarkett are approved for food contact containers and can be used for toys intended to be placed in the mouth by children.

- We lead our industry in VOC emissions reduction - with emissions from 10 to 100 times below the strictest world standards, contributing to better interior air quality.

To help customers make an informed choice, each Tarkett product has an information tag explaining the content of our products:

INSTALLATION ADVICE

A solution that is easy for your clients to install

1-Subfloor preparation

It's important to prepare the surface onto which you'll be laying your vinyl flooring to ensure a smooth installation. Vinyl can be laid directly onto existing lino, parquet and laminate flooring and it is possible to install it onto tiled floors under certain conditions*. Ensure the subfloor is dry and even, using a levelling compound if necessary*. Textstyle floorings can be laid on a subfloor with minor irregularities, making them even simpler to install. Clean the subfloor thoroughly using a neutral cleaning product to remove dirt and dust and make sure it is fully dry before commencing.

2-Flooring preparation

Make sure the temperature of the room you are working in is at least 15°C. It is essential that your flooring is acclimatized to the room conditions. To do this, store your flooring in the room in which it will be installed for at least 24 hours to bring it to room temperature.

Unroll the flooring and cut it to size before you begin installation to ensure you have the right amount of material. When cutting the roll, always allow an extra 15-20cm.

3-Install your flooring

Small areas
<math>< 12\text{m}^2</math>

In small areas (under 12m²), use loose installation, meaning simply lay the vinyl floor on top of the subfloor, with no need for glue. Just unroll, cut to size and lay over the floor and it's done.

Medium areas
<math>< 25\text{m}^2</math>

For wider floors that are less than 25m², use semi-loose installation, using duct tape around the perimeters to secure the flooring.

Large areas
>math>> 25\text{m}^2</math>

For areas bigger than 25m², we advise glued installation. Use our practical and ecological spray glue, Tarkospray, to glue the floor. With the nozzle 50-75cm from the floor, spray and glue the flooring. No tools are needed, it dries twice as fast as traditional glue, and four times less glue is needed.

Tip! Sheet Direction

The sheets should be laid so that joints do not coincide with doorways. If the room is reasonably square, sheets should run parallel to the incoming light, and in narrow rooms, sheets should run along the length of the room. All consecutive sheets should be installed in the opposite direction to the previous sheet installed, except for wood designs, which are installed in the same direction.

Professional's tip: How to connect vinyl sheets

Light and medium traffic: semi loose lay with double sided tape on the perimeter and under the joint. Place reference points in the room where the 2 sheets will join. Place the sheets and overlap them to cover the room and perform a double cut. Trace a reference line along the cut sheet. Fold the sheets and place the tape over this line to stick the 2 sheets together. Fold the 4 sides of the perimeter, smoothing out any and all extra air from one side to the other with the pressing tool and tape your flooring with the duct tape. Cut off extra material along the walls with the cutter or debander.

In case of significant traffic: glued installation is recommended, and follow the same process as above. For better efficiency and a cleaner result, use cold welding rods to join the sheets.

No mess! Less time! Easy maintenance!

- After installation: clean your vinyl floor with hot water and a neutral cleaning product and then rinse.
- Daily maintenance: sweep or vacuum your floor as required.
- Weekly cleaning: use a damp mop or floor cloth with warm water and a neutral cleaning product to wash your flooring and keep it in top condition.
